

GAARS LACK LEGAL CLARITY IN LATAM

10 NOVEMBER 2016

General Anti-Avoidance Rules (GAARs) present in several Latin American countries create commercial uncertainty and are open to tax authority abuse, because the scope of their application against aggressive tax planning is too broad, heard delegates at Latin Lawyer's inaugural Tax Summit, held yesterday in Miami.

General Anti-Avoidance Rules (GAARs) present in several Latin American countries create commercial uncertainty and are open to tax authority abuse, because the scope of their application against aggressive tax planning is too broad, heard delegates at Latin Lawyer's inaugural Tax Summit, held yesterday in Miami.

To read the full article, click here.

(Latin Lawyer)