TRANSFORMATION IS POSSIBLE

Uncertainties about demand, volatile prices, intense environmental pressure, and the increasing trend to establish more stringent regulations are just some of the challenges the mining industry faces worldwide. We understand these concerns and have in-depth knowledge of the legal and regulatory environment affecting this industry, which optimally positions us to find solutions that help companies to boost their growth.

We have participated in the largest merger and acquisitions and financing of mining projects in Brazil in the last ten years, which gives us a strong basis to advise both mining companies and their partners on structuring integrated projects to implement new investments efficiently.

We also specialize in advising on the drafting and negotiation of sophisticated financial, commercial, and corporate contracts and arrangements concluded between mining companies and their stockholders, banks, customers, and suppliers, as well as on restructuring transactions, crisis management, and potential disputes.

In structuring and modeling greenfield projects, restructuring brownfield operations, or implementing M&A transactions, we understand well the concerns of stockholders, buyers and investors, and regulatory restrictions. Such knowledge helps us to conceive innovative solutions, regardless of the phase of the project, capable of balancing the interests of the parties involved and mitigating risks to enable new business.

We advise companies on the following areas:

- Project financing
- Mergers, acquisitions, and joint ventures
- Capital market transactions
- Structuring and negotiating complex contracts
- Crisis management
- Environmental law
- Regulatory consulting
- Administrative, civil, and labor litigation
